

ANTI SWEATING INJECTIONS SOLUTION

Effective Treatment

The treatment options available to patients with primary hyperhidrosis include surgery, topical antiperspirants, systemic medication or Anti Sweating Injections.

Anti Sweating Injections is TGA-approved for severe underarm sweating not adequately managed with topical antiperspirants. Due to its large degree of success, Anti Sweating Injections has become the mainstay therapy for patients who fail to respond to more-conservative treatment prior to resorting to surgery.

Anti Sweating Injections temporarily blocks the chemical signals from the nerves that stimulate the hyperactive sweat glands and the severe sweating stops.

Anti Sweating Injections treatment of excessive underarm sweating has proved to be extremely safe and effective. It has consistently resulted in long-lasting improvements in patients' symptoms, daily functioning and quality of life. Anti Sweating Injections results appear in 10-14 days and dryness lasts on average over 7 months.
